Pledge of Allegiance

President Klimkowicz led the Board of Education and the audience in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Superintendent Small made the following comments:

“The safety of our students and staff is a top priority. District 211 continues to work with local police departments and safety consultants to review new school safety practices and technologies.

Though all safety plans are not detailed in public in order to not undermine the effectiveness of the safety measure, there are key security features in our buildings that continue to be in place and consistently evaluated by both the police and independent audits. This includes perimeter door control, communications systems including PA systems and blue light pull stations, school resource officers present in the school, threat assessment protocols involving local police, safety concern access, limited visitor entry, ID scanning and camera system upgrades.

Yet, prevention is the most important component of safety and it starts with a shared responsibility from the entire community.

Social media consistently plays a role in security issues and it is vital that parents, students and community members are in tune to unusual social media posts, seeing or hearing statements out of the ordinary and reporting them to either the school or local law enforcement. These situations are extensively and thoroughly investigated in partnership with our local police departments. School administration always inform and partners with law enforcement whenever a threat or concern for safety arises or a student demonstrates concerning behavior.

Research in school safety illustrates the need for supportive learning environments and communities where all feel supported, valued and connected. Our schools work diligently to connect with students throughout the school day and after school through activities and athletics. We continue to expand our social emotional learning while understanding the unique challenges our students bring to school. Our intervention teams including administrators, counselors, psychologists and social workers act quickly to respond, intervene and connect families with additional community supports.

As we continue our diligent efforts on keeping our students and staff safe, the vital partnership between students, staff, parents, police and the local community is critical for truly preventive measures.

I thank our three police departments for their open partnership with our schools; each of our staff members who go out of the way to connect with students during the school day and spend their afterschool hours as coaches, sponsors and tutors; parents who stay connected to their children and talk about communicating safety concerns directly to an adult and set expectations for social media and peer engagement.

We all want a great high school experience for our students as they transition into their post-high school plans and it takes everyone who is engaged in their lives to help them to feel supported, valued and connected and therefore ready for success and their post high school path.”

“For many years, the Board of Education has authorized the utilization of Ombudsman Educational Services as an alternative educational setting. The Ombudsman program is a viable alternative for students who have struggled in the regular high school setting including those with poor attendance or those who may be at risk for dropping out of school as they fall behind in the number of credits required to graduate. Ombudsman provides an academically focused program designed to allow students to focus on their academics and earn District 211 graduation credit.
