ANTI-HAZING

Hazing is defined as any humiliating or dangerous activity expected of a student to belong to a group, regardless of their willingness to participate.

EXAMPLES OF HAZING

- Having to act as a “personal servant” to an older group member
- Being publicly embarrassed by the team or group
- Being pressured to eat or forced to eat things you would not otherwise choose, such as raw eggs or tabasco sauce
- Being thrown or forced to go into a toilet, pool, or other body of water
- Being pressured to get a tattoo, body piercing or have your body shaven
- Being pressured to drink, smoke or use drugs
- Making prank phone calls or harassing others
- Destroying or vandalizing property
- Inflicting pain on yourself or others
- Being tied up or “duct taped”
- Being pressured to disobey family or school rules
- Being paddled
- Being egged or smeared/coated with food items
- Being influenced to dress in any manner which makes you uncomfortable or is offensive to gender, ethnic origin, etc.

*This is not a complete list.
If you feel uncomfortable in any activity,
report it to school officials.*

IS IT HAZING?

Ask yourself the following questions.

If your answer to any of these questions is “yes,” the activity is likely hazing and should be reported to school officials.

- Do you or does anyone feel pressure to engage in the activity?
- Would you have any reservation describing the activity to your parent, teacher, or coach?
- Will you be treated differently by your teammates if you refuse to participate in the activity?
- Is there an understanding or expectation that the activity will remain secret among the team or group?
- Would you object to the activity being photographed for the newspaper or publicized?
- Does the activity involve targeting individuals for humiliation?
- Does the activity risk emotional or physical harm to anyone?
- Is there risk of injury, any question of safety?

Even if you are a willing participant,
it is still hazing!

WHAT STUDENTS CAN DO

- Know your rights. You don't have to submit to any humiliating or dangerous activity.
 - Speak up and speak out. Go to your coach, athletic director or counselor. You have both a right and a responsibility to stand up for yourself and others.
 - Avoid group activities that are not supervised by an adult or staff member.
 - Leave a situation if you feel uncomfortable and notify an adult.
 - Influence teammates to think and act responsibly toward other team or group members.
 - Your actions have consequences. Failing to take action can impact you and your team or group.

WHAT PARENTS CAN DO

- Report any suspected hazing or bullying to your teen's coach, counselor, administrator, or athletic director.
- Encourage your teen to notify you and school authorities immediately anytime he or she feels threatened or uncomfortable.
- Remind your teen that no one has the right to humiliate, physically harm, intimidate anyone else in order to be a part of a team or group.
- Support your teen if he or she expresses feeling uncomfortable; do not discredit or minimize the concern.
- Verify the adult supervision that will be present at any team or group gathering.
- Remember that if you are hosting a team or group gathering you have legal and ethical responsibilities to ensure students are safe.
- Discuss your teen's responsibility to report hazing even if he or she is not directly involved in the action.
- If you have a question about a team initiation ritual, discuss it with the coach and/or athletic or activity director.

CONSEQUENCES

Hazing is a violation of school policy and can result in suspension or expulsion from school.

ATHLETIC AND ACTIVITY

- Hazing is a violation of the Athletic/Activity Code of Conduct.
- Hazing will result in an Athletic/Activity Board hearing, which may lead to suspension or expulsion from athletic and competitive activities.
- Hazing may result in team forfeiture of games.

LEGAL

Hazing can lead to legal consequences.
